   - Ordinance: Amend §22-30 to §22-34 and §195-1 to §195-10 and §161-3 Merge Historic District Commission into the Historical Commission (Referred by City Council of March 7, 2013)

     Councilor Adams moved to recognize Carolyn Misch, Senior Planner; Councilor Carney seconded. The motion to recognize passed unanimously (3-0).
Ms. Misch explained that some overlap in membership of the Elm Street Historic District Commission and Historical Commission exists; the merger would improve the structure in the city for permitting and policy and will help with staff shortage and timing of permits.

Councillor Carney moved to send to City Council with a positive recommendation, as Amended; Councillor Adams seconded. Councillor Murphy questioned compliance with statute of 40C, voting yes, contingent upon such compliance with 40C.

The motion passed unanimously (3-0).

- Ordinance: Amend §195-2 Expand Historic District to Include Much of Round Hill (Referred by City Council of April 4, 2013 to Committee on Economic Development, Housing and Land Use, and to this Committee)

Councillor Carney questioned the benefits of expanding the historic district; Ms. Misch noted the preservation of the campus, support from neighbors, and expanded boundaries, with recommendation by the Historical Commission. There are 19 properties with connectivity to the district. There is a signed preservation, and the current agreement allows that the developer would have to apply for permit if any exterior changes are desired. Councillor Murphy questioned the current financing agreement with Opal. Ms. Misch noted that Opal has historic tax credits.

Councillor Adams moved to continue the Ordinance to June 10, 2013; Councillor Carney seconded. The motion passed unanimously (3-0).

- Ordinance: Add Chapter §5-5, Elected Officials Compensation Advisory Board (Referred by City Council of May 2, 2013)

Councillor Carney moved to send to City Council with a positive recommendation; Councillor Adams seconded. The motion passed unanimously (3-0).

Ordinances Proposed by City Solicitor Alan Seewald, for this Committee’s sponsorship:

- Ordinance: Amend §22-1 Overview of City Council and City Council Committees
- Ordinance: Amend §22-5 Committee on Elections, Rules, Ordinances and Orders and Claims
- Ordinance: Amend §44-3 Accounts and Claims Against the City
- Ordinance: Amend §76-18 (City Clerk) Duties
- Ordinance: Amend §128-15 Animal Control Officer; poundkeeper and provider
- Ordinance: Amend §128-16 Reimbursement for damages to livestock or fowl

Councillor Murphy stated that the City Solicitor requests this Committee’s sponsorship of these Ordinances to take the claims process out of this Committee. This would save budget costs and send claims to City insurance. Councillor Adams questioned the process if a claimant does not agree with the outcome. Councillor Carney noted her disagreement with City Solicitor regarding this Committee, as an appeals committee, is placed in an “adversarial” position, but this Committee is more judicial.

Councillor Carney moved to continue the Ordinances to June 10, 2013; Councillor Adams seconded. The motion passed unanimously (3-0).

Recess 6:54 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.

7:00 p.m. – JOINT MEETING WITH PLANNING BOARD:

Councillor Murphy opened the joint hearing. Planning Board members present: Francis Johnson, Debin Bruce, John Lutz, Karla Youngblood, Ann DeWitt Brooks. Carolyn Misch, Senior Planner was also present.

Public Comment:

Richard Green – These should be presented by referendum, not decided from top down, and consequences and changes could create greater density. This is an open door to opportunity for a developer to increase density and is not limited and there are no criteria to units on a property. This should be a public referendum.

Councillor Freeman-Daniels noted a quorum of City Councilors as he and Councillor LaBarge were present with the Ordinance Committee members.

Adam Cohen – The recommendation from EDHLU was to lower to 5 units for smart growth. There should be new zoning and not just ratify. Neighborhoods have scarce parking and there is no change in off-street. If the City is advancing pro-resident, the tree canopy should be protected and new trees planted.

Deb Jacobs – The Sustainability Commission sees this challenge and this is a piece out of that plan. The City should look at rezoning in context.

Claudia Lefko - Downtown business at the edge of the City, and urban in a rural setting. We are concerned about Henry Street with deep lots to the dike. If frontage is reduced, a developer could build many units. This should address specifics for Henry Street.

Linda Rom – Support this as it brings neighborhoods to how they are intended.
Janet Gross – I have attended many meetings and am opposed to systems of modernism; you have not yet made the case for sustainability and density and this is lacking any reference to green building. New construction should be green construction. There are more car dealerships on King Street and zoning regulations contribute to degradation to historic neighborhoods. The sustainability plan is now 6 years old and the plan needs to be reviewed. It is not carved in stone and affects everyone, and should be a referendum.

Carolyn Misch gave an overview of Wards and their areas affected:

Ms. Misch presented a power point presentation with goals of the Ordinances (attached).

Deb Jacobs – there is URA in Leeds, if non-conforming, availability of schools, green, quirky – some ideas – hesitant to see design and standards. The City should encourage creativity. I thought solar was ugly, but we do not live in Levittown and should consider current zoning.

Adam Cohen – Design standards sometimes need special process and should not be lost in this piece.

Councillor Carney noted emphasis on proposed zoning allows lots and residents may be confused. Councillor Carney questioned why we should be concerned if non-conforming. Ms. Misch noted that the intention is lot conformity by adding to it; if natural, cannot rebuild in 2 years. Zoning changes are to conform with court cases. Councillor Murphy questioned uses allowed by right. Ms. Misch noted that Planning Board does not dictate architectural style and does not intend to influence upon creativity. There is no neighborhood with uniform structures on a street.

Merrill Norman – these changes affect real estate and residents who live in the City.

Linda Rom – our home on Olive Street cannot be a two-family, or we must build a connection. The changes are good for URB, parking and form and we all should respect those.

Councillor Murphy questioned zero lot line and single family. Ms. Misch noted affordable construction and most as a way to reduce frontage with non-attached smaller building.

Jim Nash – on the Zoning Revisions Committee. Issue of infill if character of the neighborhood is unchanged. Easing zoning would invite multi-unit UR package and would be insufficient around multi. Infill opportunities in North Street neighborhood. Current does not allow Cherry St or Graves Ave. A tax design with no sidewalks. There does public space end and private space begin. I ask you not to approve these as written.

Linda Merly purchased and renovated a six-family at 90 Pomeroy Terrace. There is a gap which is a trouble spot for activity and debris left. Changes do not necessarily increase density.

Richard Green noted some questionable changes could allow exploitation as not all owners are responsible. Traffic would not be reduced as more people bring in more cars. A lack of discretion would endanger the character of the City. Planning Board should take a second look at this issue. A referendum would be preferred. These Ordinances would not be needed if there are more character-friendly.

A man in the audience questioned the implications of square footage requirement. Ms. Misch noted that these are minimum lot standards and some neighborhoods have different residential areas. These Ordinances are not proposing map changes.

Mack Everett noted dense housing and sensitivity to multi-family. Henry Street dike is an impromptu greenway with walkability. Traffic also brings in issues of air quality. I am not anti-development, but cautious.

Kate Ule of Henry Street chose to live here because of the one or two-family neighborhood and ability to walk to the city while living in the country. There should be re-mapping. The Ordinances are ducking the issue.

Tom, Henry Street, noted the City’s job to keep neighborhoods in character.

Ms. Misch noted that a 4 family or townhouse is reviewed by Planning Board and analyzed for street front and character, and need 8 parking spaces. Any projects with 7 or more units need a 2/3 Planning Board approval. Concerns of minimum lot were noted at the September 2012 public hearing. Projects are reviewed on a case by case basis.

Claudia Lefko suggested that Henry Street be taken out of the proposal, as the area is farming community with long-term neighbors. Ms. Misch noted the demand for different types of housing units within the City.

Councillor Freeman-Daniels stated he intended to make map change proposals after the discussion at Committee on Economic Development, Housing and Land Use (EDHLU) meeting. The changes are diminished by the whole package but is not the way to stave off development.

Committee on Elections, Rules, Ordinances, Orders and Claims, Minutes of May 13, 2013

Councillor Freeman-Daniels proposed an amendment at the May 7, 2013 EDHLU meeting regarding developments of seven units or greater, and hoped that the Ordinance Committee and Planning Board would keep open minds. Councillor Murphy noted that the amendment from EDHLU requires the Planning Department to re-advertise the Ordinance with the amendment.

Councillor Carney noted double lot size of 14 or 16 units and the need for public outreach as family sizes decrease and a need is created for housing options.
